

2018 SUFFOLK COUNTY GIRLS XC PRE-SEASON RANKINGS

By Alex Young, Sachem HS North Girls XC and T&F

Bay Shore's Roshni Singh Leads Bay Shore To #1 Ranking in Suffolk County

Cardiac – It's a hill, get over it!

Sunken Meadow's too-tough 5K XC course has a lot of history. Cardiac Hill looms large and has been the make or break moment in so many big races since it was first used for high school races in 1967. Before cresting Cardiac, cross country runners have to climb Snake Hill, overcome Snake's quad-searing Hernia Hump and negotiate a quarter mile incline through the Picnic Grounds before reaching the base of Cardiac. Sunken Meadow will host the 2018 NYS Cross Country Championship meet on November 9. All of NYS's top harriers will become part of the Meadow's history.

Bay Shore's Top 7 competed at the last NYS championship meet held at Sunken Meadow in 2008. That year also marks the last time Bay Shore won Counties. The Marauders are ready to win its first XC county title in a decade behind junior Roshni Singh. Roshni enters the 2018 season as Suffolk's top-ranked runner. Roshni emerged as one of NYS's top runners in her sophomore year and looks to succeed Georgetown-bound Katherine Lee of SWR as Section XI #1 harrier.

Roshni's and Bay Shore's task will be as tough as the team and individual win a decade ago. In 2008 Bay Shore edged Northport 48-49 to take the then-AA title (and merge team overall victory) behind senior Kim Moran. Bay Shore has a slim 153-159 lead over Smithtown going into the fall campaign for the overall Suffolk top ranking. And don't count Sachem East out. Ward Melville looked better than Sachem East on paper in the 2017 pre-season rankings. The East Flaming Arrows won the Class A title and gave Mount Sinai (98-102) a run for its money in merge scoring. Class A top teams do a little shuffling of the deck with six of "the usual suspects" in Suffolk's top 10. Four Class B teams, led by Mount Sinai make up the rest of the top 10. The highest ranked not-Class A/B team is Class C's Mattituck. Mattituck will make a run at overall top 15 at Counties (they were #19 in 2017) with a strong returning squad this year.

While Roshni is the fastest returning runner on Sunken Meadow's 5K course, the Bay Shore junior will face tough challenges from Suffolk rivals. Roshni will have to hold off Mount Sinai's dynamic duo of Sarah Connelly (#2) and Kaitlyn Chandrika (#3) to stand on the top podium at Counties. Smithtown's Gabrielle Schneider finished one place and two seconds ahead of Roshni at 2017 States (held on a muddy Wayne HS course in frigid conditions). Mount Sinai's Sarah bested Roshni by nine seconds and fifteen places at the Federation Championship Meet last year. Sagem North's Jordyn McDonnell was only eleven seconds behind Roshni at Feds. Finally, if Mount Sinai solves its pre-season problem at the #5 runner spot, they could be in the mix to repeat as overall county champions.

On a personal note, there are a few things I look forward to as we begin to take Suffolk's first miles along trails and roads, over hills in all types of weather as some of the best all-terrain runners in the state prep for the finest seasons of their lives. (1) I like a good t-shirt with a great quote on the back. Suffolk Coaches Inv. on September 29 is our pre-States meet. We gotta have a cool t-shirt to greet and inspire all the teams coming to test our course. (2) More positive social media postings – my favorites of the summer include one by Amityville Lady Warriors declaring Monday, August 20 to be the first official day of Cross Country. Welcome back to XC, Amityville! (3) Katelyn Tuohy. Katelyn is the best. She is Gatorade athlete of the year in two sports (2017 XC, 2018 T&F). And she may set a new standard for Sunken Meadow. The high school girls course record was set by Aisling Cuffe of Cornwall, NY in 2009 with her 17:45.9 time set in winning the Foot Locker Northeast Regional Cross Country race on Nov. 28, 2009. (4) The Hosts with the Most – Section XI has a chance to show off talent, sportsmanship and spirit at States on Nov. 10. No “oops!” like in 2002 when top-seed Nicole Blood of Saratoga Springs had a big lead heading into Cardiac but missed her turn at the top of her personal heartbreak hill and disappeared into the Greenbelt Trails. Nicole was a DNF but her six teammates still won the team title. Sunken Meadow will be in its finest post-Storm Sandy shape ever for States. Coaches and teams from all around Section XI will help ensure that every runner has a great and memorable experience at States. Good luck to all runners and all teams this fall. (5) Our greatest fans – the old guys who post race predictions near the dual meet bridge – will have fun predicting Divisions, Counties and States this year! I can't wait to see them again. Can't wait to see milesplit and Flotrack guys at the Meadow in November, too. And Newsday and News 12 (maybe even sportscaster Kevin Maher!).

METHODOLOGY

Now for my caveat and explanation of my methodology. This fifth annual Suffolk County Girls XC Pre-Season Rankings carries the usual warning. Accept my predictions and rankings at your own peril. Transfers (where will the now defunct Mercy team members end up?) and team rookies, including freshmen and some “young gun” talent from middle schools can change that composition of a team in a hurry, especially in the small population schools in Classes C and D. Some mid-packers may join the front-running elite after a year of experience on the trails and track as well as commitment to summer training. This pre-season report will look pretty dated after the first round of serious invitationals. And wait until the new top-talent 9th, 8th and 7th graders step into varsity races after getting some early season frosh races under their belts. But for now, the pre-season rankings give a hint of the exciting action that lies ahead in Suffolk County Girls XC.

How are Class and overall county rankings determined? Harriers listed ran at Section XI Divisions and/or Counties/State Quals. The better 5K time is used to rank runners who ran at both meets. I also reached back to 2017 Suffolk Coaches Inv. to find Sunken Meadow 5K times for runners who, for any reason, did not run at the Meadow's post-season meets. While team rankings were not impacted by this, runners like Bay Shore's Sydney Carpenter and several Commack team members (among others) were added to our rankings. You will see "Counties" or "S(uffolk) Coaches" posted next to any runner who did not run her best Sunken Meadow time at 2017 Divisions. A larger pool of runners at Divisions and an unusually warm weather day at Counties made Divisions the faster of the two races in our 2017 post-season. For the first time in my pre-season rankings, I have included EVERY RUNNER who ran at Divisions and/or Counties. In the past, I used cut-off times – especially in Class A rankings – to keep the list shorter. More is better!

Ny.milesplit and tullyrunners have presented their NYS XC previews using tullyrunners great TR ratings (go to <http://www.tullyrunners.com/XC2018/PreSeaGirlsTeamNY2018.htm> to see a great explanation of the rating system as well as tully's rankings). While the science of TRs is far superior to my "two-post-season meets" rating system, I offer apples to tullyrunner's oranges. Tullyrunners (and nymilesplit agrees with tully on this) and I do not agree on Bay Shore's top spot ranking in my pre-season rankings, to that I state "Vive la difference!" and let the debates begin. By the way tully and milesplit favored SWR over my Mount Sinai pick in 2017. I was right (just saying). Nymilesplit and I have greater disagreement in Class A rankings. I also got Class C (Mattituck) and D (Shelter Island) right last year. And while the numbers had Ward Melville over Sachem East in my rankings last year, I noted Sachem East's depth and talent (and will again this year). I compute pace times using coolrunning.com pace calculator (http://www.coolrunning.com/engine/4/4\_1/96.shtml) for paces not published at just-in-time-racing.com results.

Have fun reading through my pre-season rankings, good luck and success to all teams – especially those returning to or joining Section XI cross country. And, finally, best wishes to all Suffolk harriers as you make Section XI one of the exciting sections in NYS XC!

Every runner who ran at Divisions or State Quals is listed in Class rankings, merged results and in pre-season projections listed below. I apologize in advance for any errors or omissions in the lists below.

2017 Sachem XC squad at Nike XC Regionals (source: Sachem Report)

Top runners in Class A know each other very well. The top eleven finishers from the 2017 Counties race are all returning.

The Class A Race at Counties will be a slugfest. My numbers favor Bay Shore right now but any of the top 3 teams – Bay Shore, Smithtown, Sachem East – can win the team title. And Riverhead is as ready as it has ever been to make its own move for a Class A team win with its veteran squad. The Blue Waves top 4 are within 50 seconds of each other. If Emma Conroy and Shannon O'Brien can close the gap, watch out.

Bay Shore junior Roshni Singh is the top returning Sunken Meadow runner in Class A but will have to hold three other sub-20 Meadow harriers to win her first Class A title. The Marauders title hopes will be easier to achieve if the rest of the Top 5 (separated by only 38 seconds) can pick off key rivals ahead of them in pre-season rankings.

Smithtown has three of the top 10 runners in Class A with seniors Gabrielle Schneider and Catherine Farrell and junior Emily Ginty. The trio has lots of big meet experience and, along with the rest of their top 7 that includes four seniors, may believe this is "their year." The Smithtown wild card is frosh Josie Muratore. Josie was the Bulls' #5 finisher at Counties in 2017. If she can get closer to #4 teammate Katie Manalastas, Smithtown will win the team title.

Sachem East has won three of the last four Class A titles ('14, '15, '17). Melissa Merone and Lindsay Dodenhoff will lead a deep squad that will battle through the finish line on November 10. But the graduation of four members of its 2017 Class A championship team Top 7 will make the East Flaming Arrows repeat efforts a little tougher to achieve.

Sachem North senior Jordyn McDonnell placed 5th in Class A Counties in 2017. Jordyn got faster upstate as she was the 3rd Section XI Class A finisher at States and the 3rd overall Section

XI finisher at Feds. Jordyn and teammate/training partner Molly Ramirez will race for a spot on the Class A States roster along with West Babylon soph Josephine Critchley, Commack senior Kaitlyn DeYulio and other Suffolk stars.

Mount Sinai will repeat as Class B Champions. Sarah Connelly, Kaitlyn Chandrika and Isabella DiPalermo are just getting started. The trio will be back next year, too. The Mustangs Top 5 will hold off Kings Park, Sayville and Shoreham-Wading River (SWR). Unless Kings Park, Sayville and SWR don't accept these rankings. Kings Park is in Class B after a stint in Class A that began following restructure NYS classifications in 2009. Kings Park has the depth needed to succeed in Class B. The Kingsmen #9 runner is ahead of Mount Sinai's # 5 runner. Can you say "displacement"? Mount Sinai would not have been able to cruise in its repeat goal if Kings Park remained in Class A, though. Without Kings Park, Mount Sinai would have had a nine point team lead over Sayville and twelve point lead over SWR.

If any team can claim home field advantage at Sunken Meadow, Kings Park can. Junior Bridget Roell will be one of the favorites to make States if her team doesn't upset Mount Sinai. But Bridget will have to battle Class B stars Alexandra Smith (SWR) and Danelle Rose (Miller Place) to earn a spot on the States starting line – a line that is probably a nice warm-up run from Bridget's house.

Sayville is one of the most improved teams in Suffolk County. After failing to qualify its team for Counties in 2015, Sayville was Class B #3 in 2016 and 2017. Sayville returns its Top 4 from 2017 and adds solid depth to its strongest team in years. Senior Jenna Newman, a 2017 State Qualifier, will lead the Golden Flashes. Sayville is a veteran team – this year may be the "wait 'til next year" Sayville has been planning for.

Shoreham-Wading River lost one of the bright stars of Suffolk running to graduation but the Wildcats still have a sharp bite behind Alexandra Smith, Emily Cook and Nicole Garcia. Veterans Danielle Ohrtman and Isabella Petretti will keep SWR in the hunt through the postseason. Runners may have to finish in the top 8 if they want a spot on the States roster. King's Park Bridgett Roell, Bayport's Madison Delzell and Easthampton's Ava Engstrom are top 10 runners who will have to battle hard to punch their tickets to States.

Like the Class A race, this is another class where the lead pack knows each other very well. The top eleven finishers from the 2017 Counties race are returning for the fall season.

Mattituck is a Class C Dynasty as it has represented Section XI in every NYS Championship Meet Class C race since 2012. The Red Devils will win its seventh straight Class C title this year behind a Top 7 that includes only one senior – this dynasty is not going away for a while. Payton Maddaloni, Kylie Conroy and Bella Masotti lead a talented squad that boasts five returning team members with NYS Championship meet experience. Payton is the favorite by just a few ticks to repeat as Class C Champion.

Cassandra Cosma, Helena Roy (Center Moriches) and Catherine Shaw (Babylon) look to return to States in 2018. Sydney Price (Center Moriches) and Aileen Schretzmay (Port Jeff) are also favorites for States.

CLASS D INDIVIDUAL 2018 PRE-SEASON RANKINGS

Pierson is the default favorite to win the Class D title. Pierson won its last Class D title in 2014. Shelter Island won the last three team championships. If Shelter Island can get more runners on the ferry they may make a run at a four-peat. Indians Emma Gallagher owns the fastest Meadow time in Class D with her 2017 Division Championship race but Southold junior Olivia Lynch beat Emma by two places and 45 seconds at Counties. Emma's gene pool (big sis Lindsey won the individual Class D title in '14, '15, '16, '17) may give her an edge for the individual title. Pierson's Caroline Jungck and Penelope Greene will on the heels of their two east end rivals.
